Introduction

The European Landscape Convention was adopted in Florence (Italy) on 20 October 2000 and came into force on 1 March 2004, with the aim of promoting European landscape protection, management and planning and organising European co-operation in this area. The Convention is the first international treaty to be exclusively concerned with all aspects of European landscape. It applies to the entire territory of the Parties and covers natural, rural, urban and peri-urban areas. It concerns landscapes that might be considered outstanding as well as everyday or blighted landscapes.

The Convention represents an important contribution to the implementation of the Council of Europe's objectives, namely to promote democracy, human rights and the rule of law and to seek common solutions to the main problems facing European society today. By taking into account landscape, cultural and natural values, the Council of Europe seeks to protect the quality of life and well-being of Europeans.

As of 27 February 2008, 29 out of 47 states had ratified the Convention: Armenia, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Finland, France, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Moldova, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, San Marino, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Spain, "the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia", Turkey, Ukraine, United Kingdom. Six countries had signed but not ratified it: Azerbaijan, Greece, Malta, Serbia, Sweden and Switzerland.

Organisers

The Council of Europe (<http://www.coe.int/europeanlandscapeconvention>) wishes to thank the following organisers for their co-operation and support in hosting the Workshops and related events: the Ministry of the Environment of the Slovak Republic (www.enviro.gov.sk), the Slovak Environmental Agency (www.sazp.sk), the Slovak Association for Landscape Ecology IALE-SK (www.iale.sk), Trnava Self-Governing Region (www.trnava-vuc.sk), and Piestany Spa-Town (www.piestany.sk). These meetings have also received the support from the Environmental Fund (www.envirofonf.sk).

Aim of the Workshops

The Workshops have been organised by the Council of Europe on a regular basis since 2002. The meetings of the Workshops for the implementation of the European Landscape Convention take a detailed look at various practical aspects of the European Landscape Convention. These meetings are a genuine forum for sharing practice and ideas and also provide an opportunity to present new concepts and achievements in relation to the Convention. Special emphasis is given to the experience of the state hosting the meeting. Six meetings of the Workshops for the implementation of the European Landscape Convention have been held so far:

- 23-24 May 2002 in Strasbourg, on "Landscape policies: contribution to the well-being of European citizens and to sustainable development – social, economic, cultural and ecological approaches; landscape identification, qualification and quality objectives, using cultural and natural resources; awareness-raising, training and education; innovative tools for the protection, management and planning of landscape; landscape award";
- 27- 28 November 2003 in Strasbourg, on "Integration of landscapes in international policies and programmes and transfrontier landscapes; landscapes and individual and social well-being; spatial planning and landscape";
- 16-17 June 2005 in Cork (Ireland), on "Landscapes for urban, suburban and peri-urban areas";
- 11- 12 May 2006 in Ljubljana (Slovenia) on: "Landscape and society";
- 28-29 September 2006 in Girona (Spain) on "Landscape quality objectives: from theory to practice";
- 20-21 September 2007 in Sibiu (Romania) on "Landscape and rural heritage".

The aim of the Piestany Workshops

The Workshops refer to the following articles of the Convention:

Article 5d: “each party undertakes to integrate landscape into its regional and town planning policies and in its cultural, environmental, agricultural, social and economic policies, as well as in any other policies with possible direct or indirect impact on landscape”;

Article 4: “each party shall implement this Convention, in particular Articles 5 and 6, according to its own division of power, in conformity with its constitutional principles and administrative arrangement, and respecting the principle of subsidiarity, taking into account the European Charter of Local Self-government. Without derogating from the provision of this Convention, each Party shall harmonise the implementation of this Convention with its own policies”.

The chosen theme of the meeting “Landscape in planning policies and governance: towards integrated spatial management” represents an up-to-date topic concerning the growing pressure on landscape and its use in the international context. Such a situation should sharpen the focus on planning and call for an adequate response in terms of the appropriate management of space, which integrates all aspects. The idea of the meeting structure is to go from the European level through national, regional and local levels to practical examples and challenges.

The expectations of the workshop are to emphasise the scale of the challenge facing Europe in the next two decades and furthermore, to relate this to planning and spatial management. This challenge includes expected large-scale migrations, leading to heavy demand for new housing, services and infrastructure in the receiving regions; massive investment in infrastructure (roads, railways, electricity services, water supplies, etc) and in industry, agriculture and other development; emphasis on renewable energy, including investment in solar-energy plants, wind turbines, hydro-electricity, which all have major impacts on the landscape; measures to mitigate and adapt to climate change, for example through heavy investment in coastal and flood defences and so on.

The meeting will provide an opportunity to share experiences by examining both good and bad practice in the integrated approach to landscape; it will try to strengthen the agenda on landscape among the key players and wider stakeholder groups involved in landscape protection, management and planning. Last but not least, the workshops will be an opportunity to present the Slovak practices and mechanism to the international landscape community, and also to promote the topic to Slovak society as one of the hottest issues in the context of sustainable development.

Venue

The Piestany Workshops will be held at the modern, renovated and well equipped building named “Kino Fontana” a cinema and cultural centre situated on the edge of a park in the centre of town, within walking distance of all the hotels <http://www.fontana-piestany.sk>. A map is attached to the end of the document.

Information on the Piestany Spa-Town

Welcome to the town of sun, water and health! Piestany, owes its widespread fame to its unique natural resources, almost 70°C hot sulphur water restores the health of those suffering from rheumatic illnesses. It entered history in the year 1113 under the name of Pescan. The Piestany spa natural healing centre, which concentrates on the treatment of locomotive apparatus illnesses, includes the gypsum-sulphur thermal water applied in forms of baths in pools and bath-tubs, and the healing sulphur mud is applied in partial or whole body packs. The spa boom began in 1889, when the spa was leased by the Winter family from the Erdody. The company Alexander Winter and Sons has transformed the spa into a business of international significance and the little town of Piestany and Teplice village into a well known spa town.

The town with its c. 30,000 residents is in Western Slovakia, in the Trnava Region, in the valley of the longest river, Vah, under the western slopes of the Povazsky Inovec mountain range, 162m above sea level. The architectural heritage includes buildings representing mainly Classic, Romantic, Art Nouveau, Purist and Functionalist periods as well as post-war styles. The town has many sculptures, fountains, sacred landmarks and parks. Piestany has a warm climate with the highest number of sunny days a year in Slovakia. The unique landscape around Piestany is influenced by its position and history, allowing many different ways to use including relaxation and sport. It has also a strong influence on the ordinary life of its citizens.

The parks are close to the spa, and are on both banks of the River Vah. The town is among those with the largest green area per capita in Slovakia. The high diversity of trees and shrubs is maintained thanks to the work of several generations of gardeners. In the 1960's, lake Slnava was created on the Vah River with favourable conditions for birds during their spring and autumn migrations. It is the largest water reservoir in the area covering some 480 hectares. Since 2004, it has become a protected nature reserve and was included on the National List of Protected Bird Territories and the National List of Territories of European Significance Natura 2000.

Piestany is not only the town of spas, parks, social life and culture but, for its residents and visitors, it is also an important sports centre. Swimming, tennis, water polo, football and water sports in general have long traditions here. A large number of sports can be practised and several important international sporting events and competitions are held here. For more information: Tourist Information Centre <http://www.pic.piestany.sk/>, The Municipality <http://www.piestany.sk>, The Spa <http://www.spapiestany.sk/>

Participants

The Workshops are open to government officials, representatives of local and regional authorities, scientists, independent experts, public and private organisations and NGOs working on landscape and sustainable spatial development. The number of participants is limited to 250 and the working languages are English, French and Slovakian. The organisers would like to ask participants and all speakers for co-operation to ensure that the meeting is run promptly at the scheduled time.

Side events - Posters and art exhibition to coincide with the Workshops

A poster presentation space will be possible during the whole meeting in the hall of Kino Fontana. The size of the posters should be 80 x 100 cm.

There will be an exhibition of tapestries with a landscape motif in the same place.

Getting there

Participants have a number of options for transport connections, as Piestany lies at the junction of different international transport corridors (air, motorway and railway). The recommended route is via the capital Bratislava. The distance between the two towns is 80 km, and travel takes approximately one hour.

Travel to Slovakia by plane

Bratislava Airport (letisko M. R. Stefanika), Slovakia. When flying to Bratislava, as well as the usual airlines, there are also low budget airlines (Sky Europe, Ryanair), which now provide services from various European destinations. Transport will be organised from Bratislava airport to Piestany for workshop participants.

Vienna Airport (Flughafen Schwechat), Austria. As Vienna Airport is just an hour from Bratislava, it is also possible to fly there. There is a regular bus connection from Vienna Airport, to Bratislava Airport. The bus service is approximately once an hour, and it takes one hour (for detailed information see the bus timetable at www.slovaklines.sk or www.postbus.at).

Travel to Slovakia by bus. There is a regular direct connection to Piestany from Bratislava main bus station every half hour. The last bus leaves to Piestany Bratislava main bus station (AS Mlynske nivy) at 19.15 pm (journey time is approximately 1 hour 20).

Travel to Slovakia by train. Piestany is on the international railway line connecting Budapest, Vienna, Warsaw, and Bratislava. A fast train leaves from the main Bratislava railway station (Hlavna vlakova stanica) once every hour.

Travel to Slovakia by car. The D1 motorway (Bratislava - Trnava - Piestany - Trencin - Zilina) provide direct access to Piestany from the north.

The Bus and train stations of Piestany are 20 minutes walking distance from the centre, where all accommodation is found, as well as Kino Fontana.

Parking

Parking is provided by the hotels. There is also the possibility to park cars in front of the “Kino Fontana”. Because of the short distance between all the town’s accommodation and Kino Fontana, walking within the town is highly recommended.

Meals

Lunch on 24 and 25 April and the welcome dinner on 24 April will be provided by the organisations hosting the event.
