EUSALP MEETS LEADER

SAVE THE DATE
17 OCTOBER 2018, TORINO

Clean air, fresh water, productive agriculture and forestry, a stable biodiversity or natural hazards protection – these are priceless services of the Alpine landscape for people and economy, in the Alps and around. A “Green Infrastructure” is delivering these services, but new challenges like climate change lie ahead. The common task for all Alpine actors, including EUSALP Action Group 7, is to maintain and improve these Green Infrastructures – but how?

The idea of community-led local development approach (CLLD) mobilizes and empowers local people and communities for shaping their own future. Could the local level also be the key for maintaining Green Infrastructure for future generations? Existing LEADER case studies reveal a promising potential, but is it feasible in practice? Which political, financial or further framework conditions are necessary?
