

Background

The ex post evaluation is a summative evaluation of a Rural Development Programme (RDP) after it has been completed. It is conducted at a point where it is possible to assess impacts and the added value of the programme funding, both at EU and RDP level. It is therefore an important means to show programme achievements with the funds spent, justify the programme budget and enhance the transparency and accountability of EU rural policy to stakeholders and taxpayers.

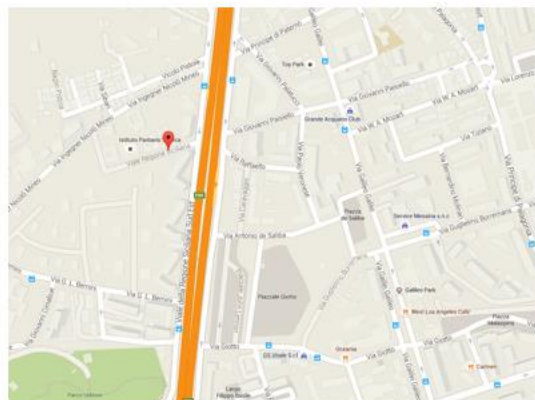

Even though the ex post evaluation is conducted at the end of a programming period, when the new policy is already designed and partly implemented, it has an important role in bridging the old and new programming periods:

- Relevant information and recommendations can be used to improve the implementation of the new programme.
- It serves as a reference when preparing the enhanced AIRs of 2017 and 2019 and is relevant for transition measures between programming periods.
- The ex post evaluation can also be seen as validating the baseline values that are set for the programming period 2014-2020.
